WANTED: NEW SINGERS FOR HOLY NAME OF MARY PARISH CHOIR

Are you a musician looking to share your talent with the Parish of Rydalmere?

Do you enjoy singing in your parish in liturgical worship through music?
Do you enjoy discovering new styles of music?

Would you like to meet other folk with similar musical interests?

Why not join the Holy Name of Mary Parish Choir here in Rydalmere which can develop your singing voice? The choir, which perform regularly, is recruiting new singers to join their ensemble. The choir is under the direction of a highly experienced chorister, choral administrator and Music Director, Robin MacKenzie-Hunter, who still leads an 18 voice choir he started some 37 years ago. The Parish choir rehearses in the church on Wednesday nights from 7.30pm., singers in the choir learn how to use their voices with others in singing and how to blend their voices together when singing Contemporary & Renaissance Liturgical music. Music has always been a large part of the Holy Name of Mary and it is blessed to have a committed team of musicians who serve its liturgical life. For many folk, music is an excellent way of connecting more profoundly with the mystery of faith and using one's musical talent to inspire others in liturgical worship. Participation in the choir enables musicians to engage in the Liturgy in a musically fulfilling way, while leading the community in singing God's praise. Commitment and consistency is important for aspiring choristers. If you are interested in coming along please contact Robin MacKenzie-Hunter by email on kkenzie@optusnet.com.au or on 9638 2625 or the church office. We look forward to hearing from you.
